In conjunction with RFATS, the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) will hold a public meeting for the purpose of receiving input on the transportation planning process for the RFATS Study Area. The Rock Hill – Fort Mill Area Transportation Study (RFATS) is the Metropolitan Planning Organization responsible for coordinating the transportation planning process for urbanized areas of York County and Lancaster County. The membership of RFATS includes the Town of Fort Mill, the cities of Rock Hill and Tega Cay, the Catawba Indian Nation, the eastern urbanized portion of York County and the panhandle of Lancaster County.

This public meeting is being held as part of a review that is conducted every four years to ensure compliance with all federal transportation planning regulations for metropolitan areas. The focus of the review is not only on RFATS compliance with federal regulations, but also to assess public awareness of the local transportation planning process. A federal review team will be in attendance and is seeking public input on the current transportation planning process and ways to make improvements to the existing process.
